the paper use deep learning and non-deeplearning method to segment a satellite imagery. see the issues below:

1. some terms need more information, e.g., OLI/TIERS sensor, ASPPP, etc.

2. better to also add lat long in fig 4 and 5 similar with fig 1
3. need isoclust and OBIA process in block diagram.

----- TEXT:
Interesting article, some parts need to be improved, namely:
1. In the abstract why only one model (DeeplLabV3) is presented when (even then it is not consistent with Table 2) there are several models/methods used in this study.
2. If there is only one why information is tabled, see Table 1.
3. A clear explanation of the implementation of the model/method used and its evaluation.
4. Need to be compared with similar research.
